LIFF Presents: The Souvenir Joanna Hogg's uncompromising new drama

Joanna Hogg has steadily built up a fascinating filmography over the last decade with complex and understated dramas like Archipelago and Exhibition. The Souvenir is her most accomplished film to date and winner of Sundance 2019's Grand Jury Prize.

It's a semi-autobiographical tale of young, quietly ambitious film student (Julie Honor Swinton Byrne) who has a love affair with a charismatic older man (Tom Burke) in early '80s London. Although initially encouraging of her ambitions, the relationship is intense and difficult and comes dangerously close to destroying her dreams. Trailer

LIFF Presents Bait, Liza Minelli Double Bill, Scalarama Leeds 2019 begins + Pedro Almodóvar's Pain and Glory...

LIFF Presents: Bait

Beautifully shot on vintage monochrome 16mm and strikingly edited, Bait has been described by Little White Lies as 'One of the most thrillingly original British films in years'. Directed by first time filmmaker Mark Jenkin, Bait is a compelling story of simmering tensions in an idyllic Cornish harbour village in the process of gentrification. The summer season brings a clash between Martin, a local fisherman, and a wealthy family converting his family home into holiday cottages. Trailer

Pain & Glory: Pedro Almodóvar's reflective tale of an ageing film director

The great Pedro Almodóvar is on top form with another sensuous and intelligent melodrama Pain and Glory, one of the best new releases of the summer. Antonio Banderas won the best actor prize at Cannes for his soulful performance as an ageing film director facing ill health and fading talent, and reminiscing wistfully about a lost past. It might just be the best film about a director's creative block since Fellini's 8 1/2. Tickets | Trailer

From Fri 23 August. Showcase Cinema de Lux Leeds, Hyde Park Picture House & Science & Media Museum, Bradford

Leeds Black Film Club presents Sprinter + Q&A

Akeem Sharp is a Jamaican track-and-field sensation, nicknamed the Rasta Rocket, and known for his incredible speed. As his rising career offers him the chance to reach the US, reuniting him with his mother, turmoil at home threatens to overshadow his progress. This special preview screening supported by the BFI will be followed by a Q&A with director Storm Saulter, star Shantol Jackson and producer Rob Maylor. Tickets | Trailer

Mrs Lowry and Son: Timothy Spall stars in artist biopic

The artist L.S. Lowry was known for his instantly recognisable paintings depicting everyday life in northern industrial towns. Vanessa Redgrave and Timothy Spall star in a new biopic exploring the complicated relationship Lowry shared with his mother and the tension it created around his creative ambitions as he sought to produce works depicting the beauty he saw in seemingly mundane scenes.
